Folks,

We have more clarity to 2024. There will be changes, so please read the Vendor Rules document.

The biggest change has to do with our inability to get an approved (i.e., licensed) fair date that coincides with carnival availability. We've done the next best thing - scheduling a licensed period (Agricultural period) that overlaps our carnival (Festival period). Full disclosure - while we fully expect the "licensed" period to be approved, we have full MAAF support for it, but not final State approval.

The Agricultural period will be July 7-10 and Festival period to be July 10-14. The cost is the same.

For convenience, we've attached returning vendor applications. You only have to fill in what's changed (on either the indoor or outdoor form) if you've attended in the past. If you haven't attended in the past, these and new vendor applications will be posted to unionfair.org/vendors website soon.

Thank you for your support of the Union Fair, Maine's Wild Blueberry Festival.
